

NORTHERN MOTOR REBUILDERS, Inc., of 2501 Danforth Road, was the first firm to start construction of a plant in Escanaba's new Industrial Park and it erected the attractive metal building pictured, with a decorative stone face about the office section. The company moved its operations from the city-owned plant it was occupying on 1st Ave. N. in downtown Escanaba and that building is now being used by Bay de Noc Community College in its welder training program. R. J. Burroughs, president and general manager of Northern Motor Rebuilders, says it serves all of the U.P. most of Wisconsin and the northern Lower Peninsula with rebuilt motor parts. The firm moved from the building now occupied by Harnischfeger Corp.'s welder plant to make it available for that operation in 1953 and left the 1st Ave. N. plant for its new building in November, 1967. Legal To Possess Obscene Matter In Home: Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, in a major free speech ruling, held today that it cannot constitutionally be made a crime to possess obscene films or printed matter in the privacy of a man's home.

"This right to receive information and ideas, regardless of their social worth, is fundamental to our free society," said Justice Thurgood Marshall in delivering the opinion.

Marshall reiterated for the court its view that the government has a valid interest in dealing with the problem of obscenity.

But, he said in announcing the decision from the bench: "The state has no business telling a man sitting alone in his own home what books he may read or what films he may watch."

The ruling came on an appeal by an Atlanta man, Robert Eli Stanley, who was convicted in 1967 of having three "stag" films in his home and was sentenced to one year in prison.

"Said Marshall of Stanley: 'He is asserting the right to read or observe what he pleases—the right to satisfy his intellectual and emotional needs in the privacy of his home. He is asserting the right to be free from state inquiry into the contents of his library.'

Stanley did not argue that the films were not obscene and the court assumed for purposes of its decision that they are obscene under tests previously laid out by the court.

The decision clearly distinguished between the Georgia law which punishes for mere possession of obscene material, and the more typical obscenity law which makes it a crime to traffic in obscene material.

Marshall recalled the court has consistently permitted punishment for use of the mails or other means of dissemination to distribute objectionable material. There was nothing in today's ruling to indicate the court had changed its mind about such laws.

Administration Possesses Plan To End Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers declared today that "we certainly hope there will be some chance of a mutual withdrawal of troops" from Vietnam this year.

Rogers told a news conference that he plans to pay a visit of three or four days to South Vietnam following a foreign ministers meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization at Bangkok, Thailand, in May.

The Nixon administration, Rogers said in response to a direct question, does "have a plan which we think is fair and reasonable for ending this conflict" in Vietnam.

"We're going to proceed in every possible way to apply it," he declared. "We have every hope it will bring peace."

He flatly refused—as he and other administration officials have done in the past—to give any details of the plan or to say whether there has in fact been any progress in secret contacts with Communist negotiators in Paris or elsewhere.

Mutuality
On the key question of troop withdrawal, Rogers told the newsmen and women who crowded his first news conference as secretary of state:

"I certainly hope there will be some chance of a mutual withdrawal of troops this year. But if it's to be mutual you have to have mutuality."

"As to a unilateral withdrawal of troops (a U.S. withdrawal without parallel Communist action), I won't go beyond what the President has said. We are considering all possibilities. I won't predict what might be done."

On other subjects, Rogers said:

—He has difficulty in understanding why the Soviet Union is deploying a massive nuclear missile—the SS9—which carries a 25-megaton warhead. This is "one of the first questions we intend to take up with them when we have the U.S.-Soviet talks on strategic arms limitation," he said.

Red China
—The United States is actively preparing for the strategic arms limitation talks—the aim of which would be to limit nuclear weapons—and "we expect they will begin in late spring or early summer."

—The Nixon administration is "willing to do what we can to have more friendly relations with Red China," Rogers said this after commenting that the United States does not consider it wise to attempt to exploit differences between Red China and Russia; the U.S. would like more friendly relations with both.

—The United States has expressed its concern to the Soviet Union about its actions in Czechoslovakia. Rogers said that when the Soviets have 60,000 to 70,000 troops, and tanks, in Czechoslovakia it makes East-West relations very difficult and in fact "the whole Brezhnev doctrine is very disconcerting." His reference was to Leonid Brezhnev, Soviet Communist Party chief, who has argued Russia has a right to intervene to suppress change in any Communist country.

Freighter And Oil Barge Collide In Mississippi River

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A head-on collision between a Formosan freighter and an oil barge set both ablaze, sent sheets of flame soaring into a heavily traveled bridge and covered a section of the Mississippi river with burning petroleum Sunday night.

The Coast Guard said 25 of the 51 members of crew of the freighter, the 7,301-ton Union Faith, were unaccounted for. Twenty-five were taken to hospitals.

The fire-swept ship sank about six hours after the collision while being towed away for beaching.

The oil barge broke in two and the two fiercely burning sections floated downstream pursued by fire tugs. One section finally sank and the other ran aground. The barge carrying 9,000 barrels of crude oil was being pushed by the tug Warren Doucet.

The Coast Guard said all members of the tug's crew were accounted for.

River On Fire
Firemen hosed down wharves and ships in the area to prevent the spread of the blaze.

"It looked like the river was on fire," said Elvise Landry, a crewman on a dredger working near the scene.

"Now I know what it would be like riding through hell," said Mrs. Arnold Regouff, who was in a car with her husband when the flames swept up from the river 175 feet below.

The Union Faith, with an all-Oriental crew and carrying a cargo of salt, cotton cloth, toys, handbags, household goods and footwear, was headed upstream. The oil barge was one of three being pushed downstream by the tug.

Under Bridge
The collision occurred almost directly under the Greater New Orleans Mississippi river bridge. "I happened to look," said Landry, "and I said 'Look, the ship is going to run into those barges.' Then they collided, followed by an explosion.

"The whole front end of the ship blew up into fire and smoke and you could hardly see the ship. The pilot house was burning in three or four minutes."

A radio operator on the freighter, Yu Fang Fan, 35, said he felt a "tremendous collision" and "I looked outside to see what happened, but there was fire and smoke all around."

Yu said he was rescued when a tugboat pulled alongside the ship after he had yelled out the porthole for help. He said at least one more crewman also climbed out through the porthole.

Spray Other Vessels
Harbor officials feared that wharves and other ships along the wharves would be ignited by the oil-fed fires.

"It looked bad," said E. S. Reed, acting port director. One ship was moved from the area and preparations were made to move others, but firefighters kept the sides of threatened vessels sprayed with foam and water and none caught fire.

Only the lead barge of the three being pushed by the tug was damaged, authorities said.

"I heard an explosion and the whole sky lit up," said John Buela, 42, a bridge patrolman.

Motorists on the bridge saw flames lapping up on both sides of the structure.

The river is three-fourths of a mile wide where the bridge spans it.

Buela was parked in his patrol cruiser on one of the bridge approaches. He and patrolman Ray Brewer, in another car on the other side, rushed to the center span.

Engulfed Bridge Deck
"There was a second explosion and the flames engulfed the center of the traffic deck," said Brewer. By then all cars had been cleared from this area.

About two hours after the collision the bridge, which connects New Orleans with West Bank suburban areas, was reopened.

The 25 crewmen in hospitals were reported suffering primarily from minor burns and smoke inhalation.

The collision was the second on the Mississippi River in four months involving a Nationalist Chinese freighter.

The freighter Helena and the Coast Guard cutter White Alder collided upriver from New Orleans on Dec. 7, killing 17 crewmen aboard the cutter.

Artificial Heart Is Coming Out

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Doctors at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital started an operation at 7 a.m. (CST) today to replace the mechanical heart implanted in Haskell Karp, 47, with a human one.

A spokesman for the hospital said the donor was a 40-year-old Lawrence, Mass., widow who had suffered irreversible brain damage after she was flown to Houston this morning.

Lawrence General Hospital

identified the donor as Barbara Ewan.

An artificial heart was implanted in Karp's chest on April 4.

The spokesman said he had no idea how long the operation would take.

"I would guess several hours but this is only a guess. This is the first time we've had this kind of operation," he said.

Karp, who was able to drink water Sunday and was being fed intravenously, was listed in satisfactory condition before the operation.

But a spokesman said earlier that the eight-ounce plastic heart was designed only to keep a patient alive until a human heart donor could be found.

Mrs. Ewan was transferred to Houston at the request of one of her three daughters, Carol Burns of Lawrence, who accompanied her mother to Houston.

Mrs. Burns asked that her mother be transferred in response to Mrs. Karp's plea for a donor.

A potential donor was en route to the hospital from Cleveland, Tex., Friday night but died of a blood clot just a few blocks from the medical center.

Complications prevented use of that heart, the spokesman said.

The mechanical heart was implanted in Karp's chest by Dr. Cooley after he determined that a severely damaged heart chamber could not be repaired.

Cooley said earlier he thought the artificial heart could function well for a month, but hoped it would be needed no longer than a week or 10 days.

No Presidential Bug Says Muskie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie says he really doesn't have the presidential bug, but nevertheless has no intention of dropping the nationwide political tours that give him the appearance of having an itch for the White House.

"I find the response enthusiastic enough, warm enough so that I have no disposition to cut off this kind of activity," the Maine Democrat said in an interview about the increasing number of political appearances he has made in recent months.

Muskie, the 1968 Democratic vice presidential candidate, has made dozens of speeches at colleges and political affairs in nearly 30 states over the last three months in what observers see as an attempt to build a power base for a 1972 presidential run.

Makes Headlines
When asked about this, Muskie said:

"They say I have the presidential bug. I really don't. But the more involved my explanations get, the more I get stuck with the bug. And I know what I'm saying now will find its way into countless headlines across the country."

He went on: "It might be better not to comment at all, but then I would be accused of a lack of candor."

"If I had a decision to make today, I'd probably say 'No.' But I don't have to say 'No' today. I don't have to say 'Yes.' So I don't say either."

"I really don't know if I want to be a candidate for president.

Sen. Edmund Muskie

But I'm not ready to reject it."

Student Support

In another mood, Muskie spoke of the feeling he has picked up in his travels from college students and other young people about the Vietnam war and the nation's internal problems.

Physicist Pied Piper Against Property Tax

CARO (AP) — A Christmas tree farmer who wants property taxes abolished has become a sort of Pied Piper to Michigan property owners, leading them to the brink of civil disobedience.

Dr. John Karpovich, a former research physicist at Dow Chemical Co., first broadcast his message of tax revolt last February and now claims 30,000 supporters in 15 county organizations.

Property tax is "an inequitable method of extracting money" which is "very much destroying the farmer," Karpovich says, pointing out that it isn't based on ability to pay, since it remains in effect even though the farmer may have a bad crop year.

"There has to be another form of taxation," he says, and the ultimate weapon to force tax reform in the Legislature is refusal to pay property taxes.

Owens Tree Farm

Karpovich concedes wholesale withholding would create "utter chaos" but he defends this weapon if the issue cannot be resolved another way.

To protect the farmer's property, Karpovich suggests that after withholding all property taxes for three years, the back taxes for the first year of that period be paid, thereby avoiding a sheriff's tax sale. This would be repeated each successive year.

Karpovich has 1,000 acres planted in Christmas trees and a laboratory in his backyard where he works on inventions. But he has been devoting much effort towards organizing an anti-property tax group in each of Michigan's 83 counties.

He wants to form a statewide congress of protesters with one delegate from each county. So far he says he has support from 15 counties, many of them in the Thumb Area.

Withhold Tax

1. Advise lawmakers that they are being watched by a big citizens group and that "if their performance does not agree with our cause, we will do everything in our power to see they are not reelected."

2. Fight a court case in which property tax is attacked as being illegal and unconstitutional. Owners who can't pay taxes and have to sell their property would be deprived of their right to own property, according to the constitutional premise, Karpovich says.

3. Withhold all property tax payments for three years. At the end of the period one year's back taxes would be paid to prevent a sheriff's tax sale and this would be continued every year.

One of Karpovich's supporters is Mayor Adolph Presidio of Beaverton, a community of 1,200 in Gladwin County.

Legal Method
Although he "doesn't agree entirely," Presidio says Karpovich is "heading in the same general direction I would like to head."

On withholding taxes, Presidio says, "I believe we need that weapon. If we couldn't get relief any other way, we would probably have to resort to that."

"Whatever we do has got to be done in a legal way and a peaceful way," says Bernard Curtis, a motel owner who lives outside of Flint. "We're not a bunch of radicals," he adds. "We are solid American citizens. These are the people who really finance the state. They are slow to inflame, but difficult to calm down when they are inflamed."

They are Sens. John E. McCauley of Wyandotte and John T. Bowman of Roseville and Reps. Alfred A. Sheridan of Taylor and Richard A. Young of Dearborn Heights.

WEMBS stands for the last names of the partners. An original partner, Thomas W. White, was bought out by Young when White was not returned to the Legislature this year.

The legislators' share of the mortgage and other payments will come from Michigan taxpayers, but they contend the partnership saves the taxpayers money.

Sheridan said he paid $1,400 in hotel bills the year before buying into the partnership. Bowman adds that he could easily expend more of the $3,000 allotted for expenses by the Legislative Compensation Commission last fall by staying in a hotel. He said he has claimed $250.00 for the first three months of 1969 for a housing allowance.

Bowman claims of the noise and other distractions in hotels, and of a fire danger.

Asked how many legislators have vacated apartments and hotels to enter into cooperatives, Bowman said "a good many duck hotels."

Bowman said he didn't know how the expenses would be accounted for at income tax time — or whether the deduction might also amount to an investment.

Bowman said the purchase met with full approval of the Senate Business Committee. "We'll turn over our books to anyone who wants to see them," he said.

Sheridan added of the presence of the lobbyist in the house "I don't see any conflict of interest. Last year George Engel had one bill on the calendar that he wanted and I voted against it."

State Farm Bureau Out To Head Off Rustlers

LANSING (AP) — Rustlers, once a major problem to livestock producers, still are on the prowl in Michigan.

And the State Farm Bureau is looking for ways to head them off.

Dr. John Quinn, chief veterinarian in the State Agriculture Department, says he's "not convinced the problem is widespread."

"But there is some rustling," says Jim Franklin, owner of the Hoswell livestock auction, which handles some 1,000 head of animals a week.

Bob Smith, Farm Bureau lobbyist, cites the case of a Stockbridge hog breeder away from his farm for the day.

"When he came back some hogs were gone. He even found tracks where the truck had backed up to the barn and just loaded them on," Smith says.

Not Branded
"A little later his neighbor was at livestock auction and saw some hogs like his—an unusual breed — go through the ring. The neighbor found out when he got home that some hogs had been stolen, and they assumed the ones sold were the ones rustled."

Oregon Man Active Again After Using This Pile Treatment

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Eugene, Oregon Mr. Chuck Gray of Eugene states: "Thanks a billion for Preparation H. Until Preparation H, I had almost run the gamut of preparations. But with Preparation H, I'm active again!"

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases — Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

assumed the ones sold were the ones rustled."

Few hogs are branded and once sold and slaughtered, there's no means of identification.

"One pork chop looks like another pork chop," says Smith. Cattle are a bit easier to identify, Smith says, because they have either brands or ear tags. But even cattle are rustled.

"Every so often we hear of some farmer who had livestock in a field—maybe quite far from his house. A thief goes out into the field, kills the cow, dresses it there and takes away the meat."

Identification
The extent of this type of rustling, Smith says, is unknown.

But the Farm Bureau may ask the Legislature to head off hog rustling.

"We're wondering if auctions should be required to demand positive identification on the part of the seller," Smith says. Smith and Quinn compare antitrust legislation to antibank robbing legislation.

"A law doesn't mean no more bank robberies," Smith says.

Present law requires auction barns to be licensed, bonded and to keep records, including names and addresses of persons selling livestock. It does not, however, provide for positive identification of the seller.

Ed Program
"I'm very cool toward more legislation in this area," Quinn says.

Tentative Budget For Area Schools To Be Considered

The Escanaba Area Board of Education is expected to give approval to a tentative operating budget for the 1969-70 school year when it meets Tuesday at the Franklin School at 8 p.m.

The budget will be submitted to the Delta County Tax Allocation Board for consideration along with county and township budgets in the allocation of the 15-mill tax next month.

Final operating budget for the district generally is approved later in the year.

In other business, the Board will consider purchase of two school buses, discuss operation of the J. F. Kennedy School and the annual school census and hear several reports from Supt. Luther M. Barrett.

The reports will deal with building maintenance, the annual election, the lunch program, rooms for 1969-70, a citizens advisory committee, special education planning, broadcast of athletic events and an upcoming conference in Escanaba of the Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

says. "They can't give every farmer the third degree when they bring animals in. I don't think any legislation could improve the situation."

"Auction barns might be a little more careful," suggests Smith. "Maybe what we need is an educational program."

Franklin says that if he at any time has a question about the goods, he "goes into detail with the seller who is consigning the animals."

"In our business, you kind of get a nose for these things," he says. "You get suspicious if a person is nervous and doesn't know the trend of operation. And if you came in with a rented trailer full of animals, we'd wonder—and check."

Load First Carrier From New Ore Port

The Chicago & North Western Railway's new $16 million Escanaba Ore Port has loaded out its first vessel.

The Henry Ford II of the Ford Motor Co. fleet left the dock this morning for River Rouge with a cargo of 11,000 tons of pelletized iron ore from the Hanna Mining Co.'s Groveland Mine at Randville on a historic voyage.

It was the first shipment of ore from a modern ore handling facility which replaces the last of the old pocket-type timber docks which have served Escanaba's port since the Peninsular Railroad built a track here from the Jackson Mine near Ishpeming in 1863. Ore was moving down from the Marquette Range for shipment on Lake Michigan to lower lakes steel mills before the North Western extended its track northward from Chicago to Escanaba.

Started Last Year

The rails did not reach Escanaba from the south until 1872 and by then there had been an overland haul of ore from the Marquette range with trains powered by wood-burning locomotives for eight years. The Peninsular Railroad was then incorporated into the North Western System.

The North Western announced plans for its big new ore terminal here last year. Its pocket dock was razed in the winter and development of the terminal has progressed since last year.

The terminal basically changes the plan of iron ore movement from Upper Michigan. Historically U.P. iron mines have stockpiled their ore at the mines in the winter. With wet iron ore that froze in the cars, it was impossible to maintain winter rail ore traffic, but with the new pelletized ore this is not true.

Storage Yard

The ore moves to the terminal here for storage in the three months when navigation is closed, with storage capacity for 2 million tons. When the lake carriers are operating, the ore moves directly to vessels as it arrives at the yard.

The Ford arrived Friday night, first ore carrier of the season at Escanaba and loading her with the new shiploader at the terminal started Saturday morning. It was completed Sunday evening, but the Ford did not leave until this morning because of the icefield in Little Bay de Noc.

O. W. Brookes, ore superintendent of the North Western, said that the usual start-up "bugs" appeared in the new operation, but that there will not be another vessel to load until Thursday and that the conveyor equipment should be operating more efficiently by then.

TV Station Destroyed By Crash Will Rebuild

Congressman Alvin E. O'Konski announced today that station WAEO-TV, Channel 12, at Rhinelander, Wis., would be completely rebuilt and the target date for resumed broadcasting is July 1, 1969. Equipment needed to make WAEO-TV a color TV station has been ordered for May 1 delivery.

The station was demolished when an airplane struck a tower guy wire on Nov. 17, 1968. All three passengers in the plane were killed and more than $1,250,000 worth of equipment and building was destroyed. The station has been off the air since that date.

O'Konski, majority stockholder of Northland Television, Inc., for several months had doubts about rebuilding. One doubt was caused by rating reports put out by the national rating companies, but five times more TV families sent in voluntary contributions than the rating agency showed were viewers, O'Konski stated.

"I have always had my suspicions about national rating companies. After comparing the ratings with the voluntary contributions from viewers, I cannot help but conclude that the ratings are a joke," said the congressman.

In rebuilding, the studios and transmitter building will be separated, as the employees are fearful of working under a high tower as a result of the accident of Nov. 17.

The new studios and offices will be built on Musson Mountain on County Trunk "G" on the outskirts of Rhinelander. Rhinelander Community College will be built in this area, and O'Konski stated the TV station will become a part of the college.

O'Konski has applied for a permit to build a 2,075 foot tower, which would make the WAEO-TV tower the highest man-made structure in the world. If FAA approval can be gotten before the tower reaches 1,710 feet, the height will be increased. The tower will be erected in its previous location.

Kraft Mill Smell Gets Wisconsin Rapids Test

Joe Karius, managing editor of the Wisconsin Rapids Daily Tribune, visited Escanaba over the weekend with his wife as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Curtis, 425 S. 10th St., and learned of the local inquiry into plans for a kraft process paper mill at Escanaba Paper Co.

The Escanaba Daily Press printed a letter from Mr. and Mrs. John Walbridge, 215 S. 6th St., on Thursday, April 3, reporting their visit to Wisconsin Rapids to examine the community reaction to a kraft mill there built a year and a half ago by Consolidated Papers, Inc., to replace its old sulphite process pulp mill. The new mill uses a sulphate process.

Karius said that the new mill has created a problem in Wisconsin Rapids which has been brought into public discussion by an urban renewal effort. It is being proposed, he said, that some 50 dwellings closest to the mill be removed in the renewal program because of odor problem.

Not Identical

The problem at Wisconsin Rapids and any that might be created in Escanaba, said Karius, would not be identical because the mill in Wisconsin Rapids is in the heart of the city on the Wisconsin River and the Escanaba Paper Co. mill is at some distance from densely populated parts of the community.

There has been no official action against Consolidated Papers, said Karius, because of its mill odor problem. No Wisconsin law is being violated — the state is in process of developing its air pollution standards — and the community of Wisconsin Rapids (population 19,000) has the problem of not biting the hand that feeds it while it wrestles with a technological nuisance created by a chemical process to break down wood into fibers for paper making.

Economic Base

Consolidated Papers is on the tax roll for $25 or $30 million and takes $7 per $1,000 tax off other taxpayers' levy. It employs 2,000 to 2,600 persons in Wisconsin Rapids and 4,000 to 6,000 in the area, being the largest employer as well as the largest taxpayer.

Consolidated spent $1 million on pollution abatement on its new Wisconsin Rapids mill, half on air pollution and half on water pollution. It has been able, said Karius, to reduce the pollution load on the Wisconsin River (described as "the world's hardest working river") by 75 to 80 per cent by going to kraft process.

Douglas Evans, head of the Bureau of Air Pollution for Wisconsin, told Karius that he believes Consolidated put in the best odor abatement equipment like electrostatic precipitators and scrubbing equipment, and that when they work well the odor problem shouldn't be too serious.

Sulphur Smell

The problem develops when there's a breakdown in the plant, as in the case of a shut-

Club Is Seeking More Members And Second Plane

The Bay de Noc Flying Club is canvassing for new members to enable it to operate two planes, with the club and Thorin Aviation working together to promote aviation in the area. The club will supply an airplane at cost and Thorin Aviation will do the instructing at usual instructor's rates.

Other activities of the club include the showing of aviation movies. The club now operates a Cessna-172, which is in very good condition for cross-country flying under visual flight rules.

Membership meetings are informative, covering all facets of flying. The club stresses safety and has its own stringent rules for members.

The club has an option on a 1968 Cessna Commuter. If enough interest is shown by the public, it will be ready for purchase immediately. Contacts are Don Breault, Thyberg Jewellers, 786-2904; Tom Bolek, Gladstone, 428-9285; and Bob Slajus, Carney, 639-2269.

Ratchet Effect

Forbes Magazine for Apr. 1 publishes an excellent article on the national economy which holds that inflation isn't inevitable.

Inflation is the force that cheapens the value of money. It results when there's more money than goods. Excessive wages feed it.

Economists are of several minds about how best to cure it.

One group suggests curtailing the money supply and credit.

Another says we should curb federal spending and tax more.

Obviously these two remedies aim at the same effect; to bring money supply into balance with the available goods.

But Forbes suggests that there's another problem. It's one that all Americans should be familiar with because it's a threat to their income. It's the inflationary mechanisms which the United States has built into its industrial economy.

For instance. After the minimum wage has been pegged at $1.60 it'll never drop back to $1.40 an hour to balance economic changes. No union is likely to negotiate a contract downward. Once pay standards are set it becomes almost impossible to do anything but increase them.

The welfare costs of states and cities are another example. They now run over $9 billion a year and are increasing steadily, making the taxpayers support a growing part of the population which doesn't pay its own way, even though our country is in the midst of the greatest prosperity ever known in the history of the world. We used to think that when "things got better" the relief rolls would dwindle. No one thinks so any more.

The Highway Trust Fund is still another example of this ratchet wheel effect which never slips backward, only ahead. We raise the taxes on gasoline almost every year. We poured $48 billion into the Highway Trust Funds last year to build more highways to allow Americans to drive even more, resulting in more traffic jams and more air pollution. Yet it's forbidden to use gas taxes for anything but building more roads.

Farm subsidies are mostly one-way. Last year they cost the country $4 billion compared with $900 million in 1955.

Social Security is a ratchet wheel which pays out increasing amounts of pension funds each year while requiring larger payments each year from employers and employees.

Without Medicare, the cost of medical care was soaring; with it it's gone into orbit. New hospitals cost more and so does the training of new doctors, and now the unions want unskilled hospital workers to share the bonanza. Municipal workers like firemen, policemen and street crews cost more each year and they aren't concerned whether the municipality is solvent or not.

How, then, avoid inflation? By more production, suggests Forbes, which insists it isn't necessary to have years of recession to get things back to old values. Even with wages and taxes and other costs going up, the United States can still produce more and save more and keep prices fairly stable, it believes. Price restraint in all things and more production can still help us. Higher taxes and tight money are being used to brake inflation, but so far have been ineffective.

Hitch In Hikers

It's hard, sometimes, to pass by a young fellow standing on the edge of a highway or at a freeway interchange. Maybe he's a college kid trying to get back to his school or a soldier hurrying back to his post.

The odds, however, show that the hard-hearted driver is the wise driver.

Of 100 hitchhikers stopped in Arizona recently, only four were found to be without previous or current difficulties with the authorities, reports "Travel Talk," published by the Nebraska Game Commission.

Along one stretch of highway, the survey revealed that 84 had criminal records and 12 others were either juvenile runaways or servicemen absent without leave.

Desertions

Every war this country has fought has seen its share of deserters, sitters-outers, evaders and those who could not in good conscience participate.

The Vietnam war is no different, although we sometimes get the impression that all these categories are more heavily represented than in any previous war.

Since the beginning of the massive U. S. troop build-up in Vietnam three years ago, more than 100,000 servicemen have been officially listed as deserters (absent without leave for more than 30 days).

Until last year, however, the desertion rate per 1,000 servicemen was comparable to that during the Korean War and is still well below the rate during World War II.

More than 85 per cent of those carried on the rolls as deserters eventually turn themselves in voluntarily, says the Pentagon. Only 853 deserters have sought refuge abroad, and 40 per cent of these are aliens who have decided that U. S. citizenship is not worth the price of military service.

Another matter is the thousands of young men who have signified their opposition to the war or the military by fleeing abroad before they could be drafted. An article in the National Observer puts the number at 50,000. Chiefly in Canada and Sweden.

The figure is probably higher than in any previous conflict, but in a war that is the most unpopular in the nation's history, it's surprising that there have been relatively so few.

Big Steel Companies Buying Other Firms

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The country's big steel companies, their stomachs growing in the midst of plenty, have begun moving into other industries in search of greater profits.

While the giant steelmakers are not hurting financially and capital expenditures have never been higher, experts say the companies want investments that will give them a bigger return than steel.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 producer, now has interests in cement, titanium, chemicals, fertilizers, plastics, lumber, aluminum and air travel and air-leasing services.

National Steel recently acquired two aluminum companies, while Allegheny-Ludlum bought out a leading supplier of garden and sports equipment. Armco Steel has joined in partnership with a computer-manufacturing company and a transportation and industrial equipment company.

Conglomerates

And some steel producers are becoming parts of conglomerates. Crucible Steel Corp. was absorbed by Colt Industries, Inc. A majority of Jones & Laughlin stock has been bought by Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., although the U.S. Justice Department is opposed to L-T-V's take-over of J&L.

Most analysts are hesitant to predict what impact the recent spate of acquisitions will have on the industry in the long run. But they say the largest steelmakers are willing to follow whatever road will bring them to the prosperity enjoyed by the rest of the economy.

Dr. Reuben Slesinger, a University of Pittsburgh economist, points out that during 1967 the metal manufacturing industry's net return on capital investment was 8.8 per cent compared with 11.3 per cent for all industries.

Greater Return

More specifically, Slesinger says U.S. Steel had a net return of 5.4 per cent and Bethlehem, the nation's second largest, did little better with 7.0 per cent. None of the other major steel producers, his figures show, got up to 11.3 per cent.

Some industry observers say this greater investment return from other industries has tended to draw capital away from steel.

In a letter to John E. Fetzer, president of the Tigers, Julian Abele Cook Jr., chairman of the commission, said:

"While our own Commission obviously does not have jurisdiction over housing discrimination outside the state of Michigan, there are federal guarantees against such discrimination.

"In letters to Mr. Horton and Mr. Brown, we have provided them with information on filing a complaint with the Department of Housing and Urban Development."

Cook also urged Fetzer to meet with local officials in Lakeland, Fla., "and request that they take affirmative action to insure that all housing and places of public accommodation are available to Tiger baseball players without regard to their race, creed, color or national origin.

"If such assurances cannot be obtained, then it seems incumbent upon your organization to hold its next year's spring training camp in a community which is willing to make such a commitment."

Landlord Pays After Juice Cut

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Edison Co. says it cut off electricity to a 62-unit inner city apartment building for a day this week to force the owner to pay an overdue electrical bill for $1,000.

An Edison spokesman said the owner had been collecting rent from the building but "just refused to pay the bill despite the fact that tenants' rent includes this utility."

The electricity was cut off on Tuesday and back on again the next day when landlord William Golden paid the back bill.

nership with a computer-manufacturing company and a transportation and industrial equipment company.

While steel companies generally have relied on internal capital for improvements, Slesinger notes the price of steel stocks has remained steady over the past 8 to 10 years.

Last year's figures are not yet available, but Iron and Steel Institute figures show the industry's 1967 total revenues around $17 billion. That resulted in net income of over $800 million which returned dividends of more than $490 million to some 1.5 million stockholders.

All of this has led some experts to predict the industry will sharply curtail future capital investment after 1970.

'Gone With The Wind' Is Gone

TONAWANDA, N.Y. (AP) — Someone, someone is enjoying free showings of the film classic, "Gone With The Wind."

Police said a man walked into a movie theater last week and told an usher he was with a film company and had come to pick up the print of the film. The usher turned it over to him, not knowing he was dealing with an imposter.

The film's value was set at $1,200.

REFUSAL ON CHILDREN

During his romance with Myrtle, Jack often spoke tenderly of the children they would have once they were married. But after the wedding, he changed his tune. In fact, he insisted on the use of birth control measures.

Finally Jack confessed that he had never intended to have children in the first place. Myrtle promptly sued for an annulment on grounds of fraud and the court awarded her a decree.

Annulment of a marriage is not granted lightly. But it is granted, as a rule, if one of the parties was deceived during the courtship about something "essential" to the marital relationship. And having children is considered essential — that is, part of the very foundation of the marriage.

Suppose the subject of having children had simply never been discussed before the wedding. Could the wife who wants children still complain that she had been deceived, even though her husband had never made her any promises?

Yes, because that kind of commitment is implied in the marriage contract. As one judge put it:

"Affianced parties do not generally exact from each other a promise that they shall have offspring. Procreation, though not discussed, is taken for granted."

On the other hand, complaints of being deceived are relatively easy to fake, as an easy way out of matrimony. For that reason, the court may refuse an annulment if the complaining spouse's story is not convincing.

In one case, a woman sued for an annulment after 12 years of childless marriage. After all this time, she said, her husband had finally admitted he had deceived her from the very beginning and had never meant to have a family.

But the court decided that the woman herself could not have been any too eager for children. Denying an annulment, the judge said:

"She allowed 12 years of their life to slip by without insisting on her right to a family. I do not think she can be heard to complain at this late day."

They 'Fake It' And Get Higher Grades

Dear Ann Landers: I cannot truthfully say I read the letter signed "A Friend's Friend." It was read to me by Bill Fitzgerald, a colleague in the Michigan House of Representatives. I am blind.

I was interested in the letter, as Bill knew I would be, because it concerned a mother whose son had decided to marry a blind girl. The question was raised — "What if they have children?"

My wife Jennie, who is also blind, married me 27 years ago. (We met in Michigan's School for the Blind in Lansing.) Jennie and I had ten children — every one of them with perfect vision and in excellent health. Our life together has been wonderful. Our oldest child is 24. Our youngest is 7. We have two grandchildren.

In my 15 years as an elected member of the Michigan State House of Representatives, I've made countless trips from Lansing to Detroit. I used to travel with my Seeing-Eye dog. I now travel alone.

I hope "Friend's Friend" sees this and stops worrying about what blind people can't do. — Robert D. Mahoney, Sixth District.

Dear Robert Mahoney: Thank you for an inspiring letter. And thank you, too, for the photograph of your family. The girls are lovely! The boys are handsome. You and Mrs. Mahoney have a great deal to be proud of.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a boy, 18, a freshman in college. I never cut classes. I take good notes, and I do a considerable amount of outside study. Yet my grades are no better than average. I know kids who cut like crazy, sleep during lectures, have never owned a notebook, and their grades are consistently better than mine.

Today I got back a psychology exam. I made a 78. The kid next to me got a 99. When I asked if he studied for the exam, he said, "Of course not. I faked it." I'm ready to start "faking it" and see what happens. I bet I'll be on probation before you can say "Wilhelm Wundt."

What's the secret of making good grades besides pure study? Is there some secret to it? Thanks for any help you can give me. — Begging for a C

Dear Beg: First accept the fact that "all men are created equal" doesn't apply to educational aptitude. Some students soak up information like a blotter and retain nearly all of it. Others must work their heads to the bone in order to comprehend half of what they read and hear and then they forget three-fourths of that within six hours.

If you slave as hard as you claim and make only average grades, my advice is to keep plugging. You will form work habits which will prove far more valuable than a flashy grade point average.

I also suggest that you have a talk with your professors and ask them why you must knock yourself out to get mediocre grades. You might pick up some useful clues.

Sirhan's Jurors Must Decide His Mental Condition

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For 18 exhausting, repetitive and oftentimes boring court days, a swarm of psychologists and psychiatrists has interpreted the mind of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan to the jury trying him for the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"I suspect everyone in the trial may be tired of it," sighed one of the defense lawyers.

Nevertheless, when the jurors are finally permitted to discuss the case later this week, their choice of which expert to believe may decide whether Sirhan lives or dies.

On one side, for the defense, is Dr. Bernard L. Diamond of the University of California, a giant in the field of psychiatry and the law. On the other side is prosecution psychiatrist Seymour Pollack of the university of Southern California, a man of equal professional stature.

Agree

They agree Sirhan is mentally ill. They diverge on the extent. Sirhan is not so mentally ill that he should escape legal responsibility for the assassination, Pollack insists.

"If you lower the scale too much, most murderers and bank robbers will escape imprisonment," he said. "Where do you draw the line? I can only give the facts, my view. Where does society draw the line?"

Pollack said Sirhan "understood fully and completely what he had done." It was, the psychiatrist said firmly, "a political assassination by a psychotically disturbed individual." In short, Pollack said, Sirhan killed because he hated Kennedy.

And Diamond is equally insistent that Sirhan is "pitifully ill, with a demented psychotic rage, out of control of his own consciousness and his own actions." He called the 25-year-old Jordanian a paranoid schizophrenic.

In A Trance

Sirhan, he said, "actually executed the crime knowing next to nothing as to what was happening."

Diamond and Pollack are only two among 89 witnesses who have testified in 13 weeks of trial. But with no element of doubt that Sirhan pulled the trigger and acted alone in the murder, their testimony has been the most important.

Such differences of opinion by men eminent in their field and nationally known as experts are bound to perplex the jurors when they start their deliberations late this week.

Ironically, Pollack-whose testimony if believed could send Sirhan to California's gas chamber—also made an eloquent plea for Sirhan's life.

As a strong opponent of capital punishment, Pollack said, he had tried diligently to find that Sirhan wasn't capable of "mature and meaningful" reflecting on the gravity of his act—in California necessary for a first-degree verdict. But, unlike the six psychologists and two psychiatrists who testified for the defense, Pollack said he couldn't find sufficient evidence of mental incapacity.

Defense psychiatrist Diamond insisted that in a fully conscious mental state Sirhan "would have been quite harmless, despite his paranoid hatreds and despite his loaded gun."

But when he killed Kennedy in the Ambassador Hotel the morning of June 5, 1968, Diamond said, Sirhan was "confused, bewildered and partially intoxicated," triggered to murder by mirrors, flashing lights and the general confusion in the hotel.

It is these opinions the jury will have to weigh in deciding whether Sirhan is guilty of first-degree murder, second-degree murder or manslaughter.

Trial resumes 12:30 p.m. EST with another psychologist on the stand.

Bomb Wrecks Police Car

MELVINDALE (AP) — A police car was wrecked and the Melvindale police station was rocked Sunday night by a blast from a homemade bomb — apparently thrown from a passing car.

No one was injured. The bomb, evidently triggered by a lighted fuse, exploded underneath the front of an empty squad car. It damaged the motor, radiator, headlights and a fender.

Lt. Raymond Machurski said a 1968 green F-35 Oldsmobile with four passengers was seen driving through the station's parking lot just before the explosion. Police pursued, but lost the car in heavy traffic.

The type of explosive was not identified, but Machurski said "it was something pretty powerful."

The blast also blew out a hole in the asphalt parking lot.

Start Delayed On Tower For Elderly

Clearing of the site for the $2,600,000 high rise apartment for the elderly of low income in the Escanaba area was to have started today but has been delayed a few days because final agreement has not been reached with three property owners.

"It was the intention to start this morning but now there are some strings that have to be tied together," reported John Gannon, chairman of the Escanaba Housing Commission.

William DeHaan, coordinator of the project, was out of the city today and is not expected back until Wednesday.

Gannon noted that April 15 is the established contract starting date and that while there may be some delay in starting the clearing of the site, there will be no delay in its completion.

The site is the east two-thirds of the 500 block on the south side of Ludington St., and the project is the construction of an 18-story apartment building to house 176 elderly of low income.

The building is scheduled by the developers, Blumenfeld & Rakita, Milwaukee, to be completed by the spring of 1970.

Clearing of the site was scheduled to start this morning at the CW Transport (formerly Olson Transportation) building at Ludington and 5th St. CW Transport moved to its new location at 2101 N. 19th St. over the weekend, in preparation for the wreckers today.

"These people have been and are willing to work this out cooperatively, and it is certainly not their intention to hold up the project and it's not a question of getting more, as I understand it," said Bessonon.

Chairman Gannon of the Housing Commission was equally emphatic about the cooperative and friendly way in which the project site acquisition has gone along. "Here in Escanaba it is like doing business with your neighbors and friends," he pointed out.

Driver Awakes In River 'Bed'

A 22-year-old Munising man got a "rude awakening" Sunday night of Rapid River. State Police said Michael Erickson fell asleep at the wheel of his car and ran off U.S. 41. When he awoke, officers said, the car was in the Taconish River "bed."

Troopers said Erickson was treated for minor injuries at St. Francis Hospital and released. He received a traffic summons for careless driving.

Briefly Told

The Tom Gafner residence at 2200 12th Ave. N. was entered sometime before Friday evening, but there appeared to be nothing taken, city police reported.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to Irvin LaChapelle, 308 N. 21st St., turning from the wrong lane; Donald S. Brant, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding; and to Venetia Bolz, Sault Ste. Marie, improper turn and expired operator's license.

The Delta County Democratic Executive Committee will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow at the Delta County Building at 7:30 p.m. A report will be given on the 1969 membership drive. All interested Democrats are invited to attend.

Darwood L. Fix, 19, of 1534 S. 14th St., was unhurt at 1:30 a.m. Saturday when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a house at 1826 9th Ave. S. It is reported by city police. He was ticketed for leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

Three couples have applied for marriage licenses at the County Clerk's office. They are: Wayne Owen Warner, Marquette, and Susan Marie Gibbs, 1119 S. 9th St.; Richard James Roman, Box 245, Gladstone, and Priscilla Joyce Johnson, Brampton; Joseph Francis Robitaille, 625 N. 18th St., and Carol Louise Provo, 200 N. 21st St.

Harold E. Brazeau, 32, of Escanaba Rte. 1, was ticketed by city police for failing to exercise due care after the car he was driving went out of control and broke off a light pole in the 1200 block, Sheridan Road, at 1:43 a.m. Sunday. Brazeau suffered minor injuries. Police said he told them he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming vehicle.

Donald A. Ingebrigtsen, 20, Rte. 1, Gladstone, who pleaded guilty in Circuit Court to breaking and entering the Bar-B-Que Restaurant at Rapid River, had his sentence delayed for one year by Judge Bernard A. Davidson. Any further trouble with the police could result in him being summoned back to court for sentencing, Davidson warned.

The following divorces have been granted in Circuit Court by Judge Bernard H. Davidson: Elizabeth J. Waldron from William L. Waldron; Kay F. LeVigne from Charles D. LeVigne; Lawrence P. Gervais from Victoria H. Gervais; Barbara McDonald from Gilton G. McDonald; Alana Arnold from Larry A. Arnold; Jeannie Sexton from LeRoy Sexton; Gail Clausen from Walter Clausen.

Parents Killed In Car Crash

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Three members of a Detroit family, including the mother and father, died today when their car smashed into an overhead bridge support on the Ohio turnpike.

Three children of the dead couple were reported in critical condition at Elyria Memorial Hospital. The family was reportedly returning to Detroit from an Easter visit with relatives in Bradley, W. Va.

The dead were identified by police as Wayne T. McCutcheon, 28, his wife, Rosemary, also 28, and their five-month-old daughter, Wanda Rose. In critical condition were the couple's three sons, Jeffrey, 5, Terry, 4, and Kevin, 2.

Police said the family was in a compact car westbound about three miles west of the turnpike's Elyria interchange when McCutcheon, who was driving, attempted to pass a tractor-trailer truck.

Police said they believe McCutcheon may have fallen asleep at the wheel. They said there were no skid marks at the scene of the accident, which happened at 7 a.m.

Education Crisis Lacks Sense Of Urgency: Levin

LANSING (AP) — Democratic legislative leaders today criticized Gov. William Milliken for what they termed failure to show "a sense of urgency and leadership" to meet "an education crisis that envelops us."

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin of Berkeley and Speaker William Ryan of Detroit said they were requesting television time to reply to Milliken's statements last week on education.

"This session needs a sense of urgency," Levin told a news conference. "There is no sense of urgency given to the Legislature (in Milliken's special message on education). The time for action is now."

Citing what he said was a current $30 million deficit in the Detroit school system and a total $20 million deficit last year in some 75 other districts in the state, Levin urged that the so-called Thomas report, based on a study two years ago, be the basis for legislative action.

"I don't think any study is going to take the monkey off the back of the Legislature and the governor," Levin said. "If it's a question of public opinion, it shouldn't be a study committee."

Smeekeens Wants Study Of Banking Legislation

LANSING (AP) — A "cold-nosed analysis of legislation to revise the state's banking laws was called for today by a Republican state representative.

Rep. Joseph Smeekeens of Sherwood cited bills that would change the banking laws—the first major revision since 1937—as well as permit bank holding companies, permit corporations to own bank stock and increase the maximum interest rates.

"My main concern over these proposals is that they might lead to massive consolidations of financial power in the hands of a relatively few individuals and corporations," Smeekeens said.

"If free competition in the banking industry breaks down, the consumer will inevitably suffer."

The measures currently are pending in the State Senate.

One bill, a 144-page recodification of the banking laws, came up for discussion briefly last week, but senators postponed preliminary approval because of its complexity and a series of amendments offered.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, chairman of the Senate Corporations and Economic Development Committee, told colleagues the state's banking industry favored the measure.

"The banking industry is in favor of the bill—what do the people think?" asked Sen. Roger Craig, D-Deerborn. "I become unnerved when we put the foxes in charge of the chicken coop."

Smeekeens planned to introduce a resolution calling for appointment of a citizens committee tee of up to 25 persons. The committee would be charged with examining "the realistic and true economic and social implications of these proposals with special emphasis on the effect on depositors, farmers, individuals, small business, competition in the money market and quality of opportunity."

Smeekeens proposed that deadlines for House action on the bills be extended, if necessary, pending the citizens committee report, because "most of us are in the unhealthy political position of being stampeded by the banking interests and their agents and have no facts or real information" on the legislation.

Thousands In Peace Parades

By The Associated Press

Tens of thousands of persons joined Easter weekend protests against the Vietnam war.

More than 50,000 gathered in New York's Central Park Saturday in an orderly protest that set the tone for parades and rallies in other cities. The protests were organized by the National Action Coalition, made up of 12 antiwar groups.

The only violent incident came Sunday in San Francisco, where a peaceful parade of 10,000 to the Presidio army installation ended in a clash that injured 13 military policemen.

Seven MPs were treated for eye injuries after being sprayed with an unidentified liquid. Three others suffered chemical skin burns and three more were cut by thrown bottles. Police held three demonstrators.

The parade, which included some out-of-uniformed servicemen, moved from the Civic Center to the Presidio without incident.

The clash began when several demonstrators tried to push onto the base. MPs who resisted them were bombarded with stones and bottles.

Several West Coast military bases scheduled extra duty over the weekend during the hours of the demonstrations.

More than 10,000 persons marched through Chicago Saturday in a peaceful protest. Strong winds blew away their signs and there was scattered heckling.

About 3,500 people gathered in Los Angeles Sunday for an antiwar rally. A brief scuffle between two antiwar groups ended with 12 fist-fighters falling into the lake at Lafayette Park. Police booked five persons on charges of suspicion of disturbing the peace.

campuses, he said:

"I don't think the quiet reflects a basic change in opposition to the war." Instead, Muskies said, it may be "a tendency of even young Americans to give the new administration a chance."

"One of the by-products of this period of calm may be that people, including young people, may have a chance to focus more calmly and rationally on the nature of the process involved in ending a war."

Mrs. McCullough Taken By Death

Mrs. Jacob (Sophie) McCullough, 64, of Wilson, died Sunday morning at the Morgan Heights Hospital in Marquette, following a lengthy illness. She was born in Ford River and had resided in Wilson for 60 years.

She is survived by her husband, Jacob; four sons, Norman and Jacob Jr. of Milwaukee, Jerome of Harris and William of Chicago; three daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Alice) Wandah-sega Sr. and Mrs. Perry (Marie) Thunder of Harris and Mrs. Floyd (Joyce) Rhode of Spalding; three brothers, William Philemon of Lac du Flambeau, Wis., Archie Megenoph of Harbor Springs, Mich., and Richard Philemon of Harris, 28 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Chapel in Bark River from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the funeral chapel. The Rev. William Taylor will officiate and burial will be in the Hannahville Cemetery.

18 Courses

A total of eighteen courses in ten disciplines will be offered this summer on the Marinette County Campus of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, an increase of seven over the number given a year ago. Summer session dates are June 23 through Aug. 16. Course titles include theatre techniques, earth sciences, economics and the modern world, history of the U.S., introduction to writing, intermediate algebra, college algebra, trigonometry, basic music, contemporary social philosophy, and social psychology.

Nixon Prodded By McCormick

WASHINGTON (AP)— House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., prodded the Nixon administration today to speed up its recommendations to Congress.

Emphasizing that he meant no criticism of Nixon, McCormack said in a statement that Congress and the new President "can best act by the executive expediting messages and reports as quickly as possible."

Without mentioning criticism of Congress for having done little during its first three months in session, McCormack said that to date the legislative branch "has made fine progress."

"As a practical matter," he said, "it is exceedingly difficult for the leadership in Congress to formulate a legislative program and timetable . . . until it has before it those recommendations which the President has to submit to the Congress."

McCormack's prod came on the heels of a weekend statement by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills that his House Ways and Means Committee will start writing tax reform legislation before the end of the month even if Nixon hasn't submitted his own proposals.

Mills, D-Ark., is chairman of the committee, which handles all tax legislation.

Nixon reportedly has told leaders of both the House and Senate that he hopes to present his budget recommendations and some other major legislative proposals soon after Congress returns from its current Easter vacation a week from today.

Passenger Hurt In Auto Mishap

Miracle Of Migration Is Being Enacted Again

By LEE SMITS

A semi-annual miracle is getting under way; the movement of birds, from southern wintering grounds to northern breeding grounds. Birds of many species, from hummingbirds to swans, obey a mysterious summons traveling air routes that have served successive generations of feathered hosts, century after century.

From ancient times men have pondered the mystery of migration. Numerous theories have been developed to account for the ability of birds to navigate between continents, across great expanses of open sea.

One theory has it that the migration patterns became fixed when glaciers scoured thousands of square miles of earth in the temperate zone. But the mystery remains.

It seems that changing hours of sunlight is an important factor in activating the migratory instinct. The common belief that birds have advance notice of bad weather is only partially supported by evidence. At times storms mow down vast numbers of birds. When the passenger pigeon was at its peak of abundance, lake vessels sailed for hours through thick rafts of dead pigeons, victims of equinoctial storms. Yet wildfowl do respond to impending weather changes, such as advancing cold fronts.

The most painstaking scientific study does not clear up all of the mystery related to animal behavior, like the old notion that crows could smell gunpowder and could not be approached by a man carrying a gun. A few years ago an Audubon Museum in Connecticut arranged with Michigan officials to obtain a raven or two for a collection of mounted birds. Michigan raven, by the way, have become much more abundant than they were half a century ago. This might be accounted for by the considerable number of deer killed on highways, providing an enormous food supply for ravens.

Two men cruised Upper Peninsula side roads, seeking a raven or two. They would sight a raven, feeding on a traffic-killed animal a quarter of a mile down the road, and one man with a shot gun poised would make ready to collect the specimen. Never would the raven stay long enough for the car to get within range.

On occasion, driving without a gun in the car, they would see a raven sitting beside the road as the car passed within 30 feet. These two men became convinced that ravens are mind-readers.

Dr. John W. Aldrich gathered data that seemed to prove that birds received advance notice of catastrophes. Lake Hebgen in Montana, 12 miles west of Yellowstone Park, was a favorite haunt of waterfowl. One August morning all the birds left the lake. Six hours later earthquake shocks rocked the dam that held back the waters of the lake. The quake killed a number of tourists and campers, although in an area heavily populated with wild animals, not a bird or any other animal was killed, so far as the park rangers could determine.

Scientists from the Interior Department journeyed from Washington to investigate, but no explanation was found for premonition that saved the Lake Hebgen waterfowl. History recorded similar happenings in other countries. Aldrich concluded his report with the statement that birds obviously have advance knowledge of earthquakes.

Mankind, over the centuries, has cherished legends of occult behavior in the animal world. Put the question to professional dog trainers—"Do you think dogs have extra-sensory perception?" and they will give the inevitable reply "They surely do", and proceed to cite instances.

Unsolved mysteries of animal behavior are a rich field for speculation and story-telling. The pin-point navigation of migrating birds—the dog that travels great distances overland to return to its old home, the buck deer that are super-wary while protected dogs are tame and trusting—phenomena for which neither science nor everyday reason has any conclusive explanation, except that nature seems to have endowed many creatures with what men call extra-sensory perception.

During 1967, auto thieves stole one of every 125 cars registered in the United States.

Church Opposes Military Aid To Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said today "I am going to do all I can" to end U.S. military assistance programs for Latin America.

Church heads the subcommittee on Western Hemisphere Affairs of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He expressed concern in an interview over "the growth of military dictatorships in Latin America" and said the military aid program has done more harm than good.

Church spoke out as President Nixon's special envoy, attorney John N. Irwin, prepared for weekend consultations here on talks with Peru's military regime in Lima.

Peru Dispute

Peru is now involved in a dispute with the United States over expropriation of the International Petroleum Co., a Standard Oil subsidiary. Unless an agreement is reached by Wednesday Nixon is required by law to end U.S. aid to Peru.

Church said he hoped a rupture could be avoided. "But if this rupture does occur," he said, "I think our subcommittee should conduct immediate hearings" on the dispute.

"One of the primary goals of the Alliance for Progress was to promote democratic governments," Church said, "but there have been 16 military takeovers since the alliance started, and nine of the 19 republics are now ruled by the military, compared to one in the era of President Kennedy, who created the alliance."

Little Reform

Church said there was little evidence the social and economic reforms contemplated in the alliance have been realized.

One lesson, he said, is that "we cannot place our faith in military regimes, simply because they are non-Communist. It is apparent these military regimes may turn against the United States at any time."

Since 1950, more than 200,000 officers and soldiers from Latin America have received training at U.S. bases. A companion to this training program has been sale and supply of arms from rifles to jet aircraft to equip Latin American military forces. From 1945 to 1967, the program cost $11,117,500.

Anti-U.S. Line

A State Department paper describing the program says its principal objectives are "to develop internal security and foster civic action. Internal security and democratic political stability are recognized as prerequisites for peaceful economic and social development."

Critics like Church have protested that, with few exceptions, leaders of Latin American military coups have been training in the United States. Eleven of the 14 leaders of last October's coup in Peru were U.S.-trained. The regime has since taken a militantly anti-U.S. line.

Living Standards Up In Bulgaria

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — This tightly controlled Communist country shows few if any signs of liberalization in the Czechoslovak mould, but this has not kept the average Bulgarian's standard of living from going up.

Bulgarians take pride in that. They like to compare themselves with Romania and are anxious to hear that their northern neighbors are not too far ahead of them.

A visitor who has not been here for about a year is surprised at the changes. New buildings have sprung up. There is a giant hole in the center of town where first an underpass and eventually a main station of a subway will be located.

The number of cars has increased. They are better cars, too.

Privately Owned

To own a car is certainly the latest craze. If a Bulgarian is patient and saves enough money, he may eventually own a Fiat which costs him about 4,500 levas—$2,250 at the tourist rate of exchange.

Both Italian Fiat and French Renaults are produced here under license.

One informant claims there are already some 80,000 privately owned cars in Sofia, but this seems optimistic. Sofia has an "official" population of about one million; the unofficial number is certainly higher.

Bulgarians need government permission to live in the capital. This was ordered to curb migration from the country. But many live here without a permit. Some time ago, a girl got married to a Sofia citizen only to become one, too. Some money changed hands and the two got divorced soon afterward. This has been more or less foiled by a decree denying immediate citizenship to new brides.

Grayness

Despite the improvements, there is still an impression of grayness in this East European capital. Suits, dresses and overcoats are mostly uniformly darkish, but one sometimes sees a courageous woman wearing a light-green ensemble or a fire-red hat.

Prices for food and hotel accommodations are reasonable by Western standards.

Bulgaria has made efforts to shake off its foreign-political isolation, growing from its reputation as Moscow's staunchest ally. Many governments apparently felt "Why talk to Sofia when they will do what the Soviets want anyway?"

Good Citizen

POSEN (AP) — A Posen bank assistant vice-president has received the year's first "good citizenship" award from the Michigan State Police. Harley Ennest Jr. was honored for helping an injured pedestrian and assisting in capturing the driver who fled from the accident scene last summer.

Cardinals, Bishops Told To Simplify Wardrobe

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has ordered bishops and cardinals to simplify their regal mode of dress in keeping with the "simplicity, practicality and spirit of humility" emphasized by the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The order, effective April 13, will make the April 28 consistory to create 33 new cardinals one of the most austere in centuries.

It abolishes the use of red shoes, shoe buckles, the broad brimmed Galere hat, the red plush hat traditionally worn by cardinals, sashes with tassels and the mantelletta, a short red cape.

The new rules do not strip cardinals and lesser prelates of all their finery, but aim to eliminate the royal red, ermine and silver commonly worn by them.

Protests
The introduction states that Pope Paul issued the rules with the intention of bringing the outward forms of ecclesiastical life "into closer correspondence with the changing circumstances of the times and of making them now accord better with the higher spiritual values which they should express and promote."

Since the end of the Ecumenical Council there have been increasing protests among Roman Catholics against the pomp and rich dress in a church dedicated to simplicity and spirituality.

Last year an entire parish in Florence revolted against church authority protesting what it called "triumphalism," ostentatious use of jewelry, finery and rich dress by churchmen.

Without Red

One rule states for cardinals "the dress for ordinary use may be black cassock without red trim. With this black cassock red hose are not worn." But the red watered silk skull cap may be worn, and cardinals may retain their red cassocks with trimmings if they wish.

For bishops the purple cassock and the black cassock with red trim were also retained. But the abolition of sashes, red hose, silver buckles and rich outer capes applies to bishops and monsignors.

The use of coats of arms by cardinals and bishops is still permitted, but the Pope ordered the shields must be simple and clear.

Remove Portraits

The rules also provide that henceforth the portraits of titular cardinals shall be removed from their churches. The name of the cardinal may be placed in a frame inside his church.

The changes were received with some disappointment by some in Vatican circles, who thought they did not go far enough.

It was noted that many progressive cardinals had long ago simplified their dress in line with the recommendations of the Ecumenical Council.

Rescue Fails

HUTCHINSON, Minn. (AP)—John Fenske, 60, drowned Sunday in the flood-swollen Crow river when he attempted to rescue his dog from a chunk of ice, the McLeod County sheriff's office said.

The Sheriff's office said when Fenske ventured onto the ice to rescue the animal, he fell into the swift current.

Michigan Utilities Seek Rate Hikes

LANSING (AP)—Three major Michigan utilities are lined up to appear before the State Public Service Commission in an effort to win approval of rate increases.

Consumers Power Co. and Michigan Gas Utilities Co. already have had one chance to plead their cause.

Detroit Edison Co. will be the next to appear before the department of commerce rate-setting agency.

None of the three has yet specified the exact dollar or percentage amount they would like to receive.

A fourth company, Michigan Consolidated Gas, asked for increases more than a year ago. A spokesman said, "We expect an answer any day now" on the request.

The utilities are operating on the theory that the facts and figures they present will speak for themselves. They are asking the commission to allow them what they say is a fair rate of return on their huge investments.

Same Reason

Any rate increases, of course, will be passed along to the individual customer. Many will first know of the increases when they get a higher monthly gas or electric bill.

All three cite the same general reasons as justifying rate hikes.

These include the increased cost of doing business, increases in wages, increases in plant costs, the high cost of obtaining money and the impact of increased federal taxes plus the state income tax.

Detroit Edison Co. will make its first appearance before the commission April 14-15 in Detroit. Hearings then will shift to Lansing, April 16-18.

Detroit Edison has some 1.4 million electric customers, mostly in the Thumb Area.

Present Argument

Consumers already has spent nine days presenting its arguments for a rate hike to the commission. Consumers will appear before the commission again on April 22.

The commission staff will present its findings at the April 22 hearing. Objectors, such as the Michigan Utilities Ratepayers Association, also will present arguments against any rate increases.

Consumers serves some 1.03 million electric and about 798,000 gas customers throughout most of the Lower Peninsula.

Michigan Gas Utilities Co. was before the commission in February to present its case for a rate hike. The commission staff now is conducting its own investigation. A date for the next appearance by the utility has not yet been set.

The utility distributes gas to some 68,000 customers, mostly in the southern Lower Peninsula. Its headquarters are in Monroe.

Easter Prayers For A Thief

MIAMI (AP) — There was a special Easter prayer service for a thief at St. Hugh's Catholic Church Sunday—the thief who robbed Sophia Larsen as she knelt in solitary Lenten prayer.

"We asked God to be merciful to this person," said Larry Dries, a layman who led the 25-minute service.

"It was a very small thing," the Rev. James Kiley said. "Just a few of the neighbors got together and figured they'd like to pray for the guy that robbed her. It fits in very nicely with the story of the Good Thief—you know, the whole story of Christ's crucifixion."

"It was an effort to show true Christian charity in terms of asking that God have some consideration for this person that did this thing," said Dries, a counseling psychologist for the Veterans Administration.

Mrs. Larsen, 57, was praying alone in the church the afternoon of March 28, when she heard a voice behind her. The voice said: "Don't move, don't say anything, just sit quiet and still."

Two hands appeared from behind. One pointed a pistol at Mrs. Larsen's face and the other took $14 from her purse.

"This is the sort of thing that can frighten people into feeling it's not safe to be there," Dries said. "That's wrong."

Dries said the special Easter Sunday service attracted 28 people who contributed $28.

"We're going to give the money to the lady and my understanding is that she is going to give it to some charity," he said.

"I don't know the lady herself. I have never seen her."

Auxiliary Presents Respirator To Hospital

Gordon LaBuhn of Marquette, regional director of the Upper Peninsula Region of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association, gave an illustrated lecture on, "Smoking and Health," at a recent meeting of the St. Francis Hospital Auxiliary.

He presents this program not only to adult groups but also in the schools, beginning with the third grade.

In showing slides of the lung and cross section of the bronchial wall, he pointed out that smoking brings small particles into the lungs and is a personal air pollution. He also showed comparative slides of a person who smokes a great deal, and a non-smoker.

Causes Cancerous Cells

He further stated that there are four things which occur when these particles are brought into the lung: the cilia cells are affected, the mucous glands are affected, the whole lining of the bronchial wall swells and chemical reaction in cells causes cancerous cells.

Emphysema, he said, is increasing at the rate of 30 per cent a year. In 1963 there were more deaths from lung cancer than from automobile accidents.

There are also three elements involved in smoking; the quantity smoked, duration of the habit and depth of inhalation. He further added that smoking does not only affect the lungs but can be a contributory factor in heart attacks and strokes. A question and answer session followed the talk.

Present Respirator

During the meeting, the Auxiliary presented to the hospital, a Mark 3 BIRD Respirator.

This machine is used for both in-patient and out-patient care for the treatment of Chronic Asthma, Emphysema, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and is also effectively used for post operative purposes to exercise the lungs and to assist the patients in deep breathing and coughing following surgery.

All donations of equipment by the Auxiliary are specifically selected for the comfort and benefit of the patient. To raise funds for this purpose, the Auxiliary sponsors many projects, such as bake and candy sales, Christmas Bazaars, year round operation of the Gift Shop and the annual spring benefit card party.

Boston Appears Ready To Defend Pro Cage Crown

By The Associated Press
The Los Angeles Lakers rested today with visions of a crown on their heads while the Atlanta Hawks prepared for another fighting tonight.

But hold everything because the Boston Celtics, present kings of the National Basketball Association, appear to have little intention of abdicating.

The aging Celtics, who won the NBA title last year and then finished a disappointing fourth in the Eastern Division this season, look ready for another coronation now that the playoffs are underway. After winning the division semifinal series in five games from Philadelphia, Boston opened the division final with an impressive 108-100 victory over the red-hot New York Knicks in a nationally-televised game Sunday in New York.

The winner of that best-of-7 series, which resumes Wednesday night in Boston, meets the West winner.

The Lakers took a big step in that direction by winning their fourth straight from San Francisco, 118-78, Saturday night to win their semifinal set and now await the victor in the Atlanta-San Diego series.

Atlanta, after a 112-101 triumph Sunday in Atlanta for a 3-2 lead, can wrap up its series tonight in San Diego, where the Hawks have not won this season.

The Celtics moved to a 70-55 lead in the third period against the Knicks, who came off a surprising four-game sweep over Baltimore in their semifinal series. Although New York made several desperate rushes in the final period, cutting the margin to 94-90 and then 98-94, Boston with its playoff savvy always had the answer.

Veterans John Havlicek and Bailey Howell, who each had seven points in the final 12 minutes to hold off New York, finished with 25 and 21, respectively. Walt Frazier had 34 for New York.

Atlanta, led by Joe Caldwell and Lou Hudson, took a 53-50 halftime lead, increased it to 84-77 after three periods and then poured it on for a 95-78 spread. Caldwell totaled 26 points and Hudson 20 for the Hawks. Elvin Hayes had 27 for the Rockets.

Here is the probable starting lineup and batting order for Detroit: Dick McAuliffe 2b, Mickey Stanley ss, Al Kaline rf, Norm Cash lb, Willie Horton lf, Jim Northrup cf, Bill Freehan c, Don Wert 3b, Denny McLain or (Mickey Lolich) p.

If the weather is good, a crowd of more than 33,000 is expected at Tiger Stadium.

Tigers To Open Season Tuesday

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers open the 100th year of professional baseball Tuesday in a strange role — that of defending world champions.

The Tigers play their first game of the season against the Cleveland Indians with all veterans scheduled to be in the Detroit lineup.

But in the usual pregame ceremonies there are two rookies.

Rookie Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will be on hand and will serve as the "umpire" when "rookie" William Milliken, Michigan's first-year governor, throws the traditional first ball. Behind the plate will be "veteran" Jerome P. Cavanagh, Detroit's mayor, who has had the catching duties for the last seven years.

Unsold Selected Top NBA Rookie

NEW YORK (AP)—Westley Unseld, who already has won the National Basketball Association's Most Valuable Players award, was named the Rookie of the Year today, easily beating out Elvin Hayes.

Unseld, the pivot man who led the Bulls to the Eastern Division title during the regular season, polled 53 votes from sportswriters and sportscasters while Hayes attracted only 25.

"I can only thank my teammates and coach for making it possible for me to win these awards," Unseld said.

The graduate of Louisville was the second best rebounder in the NBA with 1,491 rebounds, averaging 18.2 a game, and scored 13.8 points per contest. Hayes of San Diego was the league's top scorer with a 28.4 average and finished fourth in rebounding.

POOR ROAD TEAM

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Spurs of the Western Hockey League lost 14 games on the road and tied one before finally beating the Portland Buckaroos 6-3.

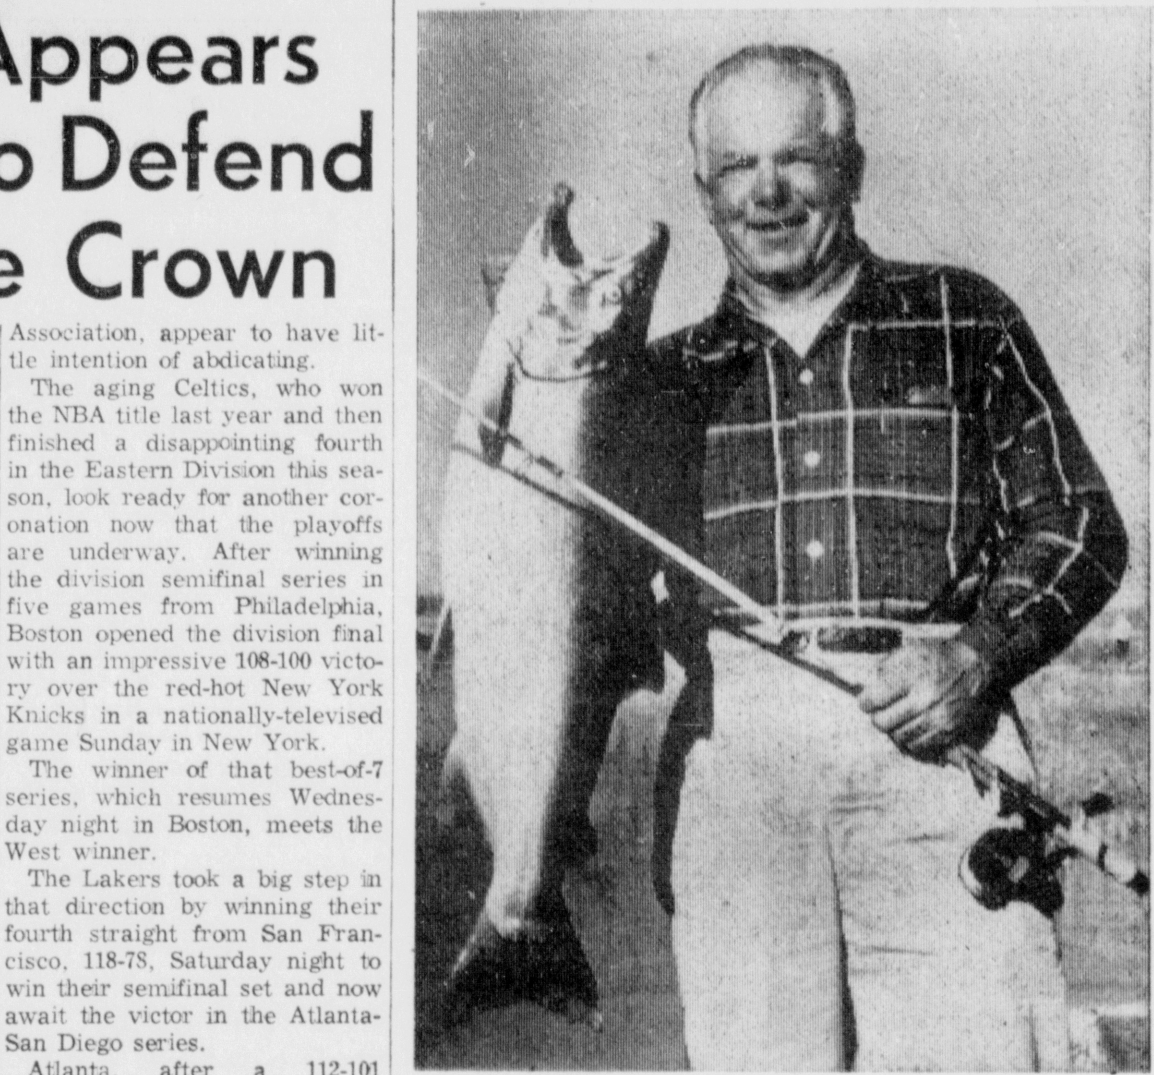

Michigan State baseball coach Danny Litwhiler collected 982 hits in a 12-year major league career and wound up with a lifetime batting mark of .281.

Toronto's Imlach Axed After Playoff Defeat

TORONTO (AP) — The axe that hung ever so low over Punch Imlach's head all during the National Hockey League season, fell swiftly on the veteran Toronto general manager coach Sunday night after the Leafs absorbed their fourth straight beating from Boston in the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

Stafford Smythe, president of the hockey team, marched into the press room at Maple Leaf Gardens two minutes after the game and said, "he's through altogether."

Smythe, who had called Imlach on the carpet early in the season when the Leafs were in the NHL East Division cellar, said he fired Imlach moments after the game ended.

"I told him two minutes ago," Smythe said. "I said, 'it's the end of the Imlach era.'"

It was an era that brought four Stanley Cups in 11 seasons and playoff finishes in 10 of those seasons. The Leafs missed the playoffs for the first time under Imlach last year.

There were rumblings that Imlach was in trouble then and they increased when the Leafs started slowly this season. In December, Imlach was called before the hockey committee of Maple Leaf Gardens. He assured Smythe and the committee that the team would make the playoffs and it did.

Still, Smythe was not satisfied. He had often suggested that Imlach drop one of his two jobs but Punch always refused, saying that he would hold both jobs or neither.

"We went into the expansion draft as Stanley Cup champions," said Smythe, "and two years later we haven't won a game in the playoffs."

The Leafs were eliminated by the Bruins in four games, losing the first two by lopsided 7-0 and 10-0 scores in Boston.

Imlach said he knew he was finished before Smythe told him. "But I will have something more to say about that later. I'm going to reserve my judgment until I'm less emotionally upset."

Imlach, 51, assumed his dual role in 1958 after two years as manager-coach of the Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League. Before that, he spent 11 years as player, coach, general manager and eventually part owner of the Quebec Aces, a senior team and later a minor league club in the now-defunct Quebec League.

Smythe named John McLellan, coach of the Tulsa Oilers of the Central League as the Leafs' new coach and scout Jim Gregory as the new general manager.

Some people call Gene Littler golf's mechanical man. Quiet, soft-spoken, seldom spectacular, all he does is win money and tournaments in a generally unobtrusive manner.

When he won a four-man sudden death playoff on the fifth extra hole of the $160,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament Sunday he padded his bulging 1969 bankroll by $32,000. He's the year's top money winner at $86,000 and the first man in 14 tournaments this year to win twice. He took the Phoenix Open in February.

The 38-year-old Littler finished with 274 over 72 holes, 10 under par, and tied with PGA champion Julius Boros, young slugger Tom Weiskopf and Orville Moody.

Weiskopf, out of the Army a month after a five-month hitch, dropped out on the first extra hole, the 15th, with a bogey five.

Meanwhile, Littler, the 49-year-old Boros and Moody matched pars through the 18th and then had to trek back to the 15th to start another go-round before national television cameras.

Littler knocked in a 12-foot birdie putt on no. 15, his fourth birdie in six visits there, to take the prize.

Boros, Moody and Weiskopf split second, third and fourth money, each winning $12,373.

For the 23 holes played Sunday, Littler had three birdies and 20 pars.

A hole-in-one on the seventh hole of his third round probably was the turning point for Littler.

South African Gary Player won $6,560 for finishing fifth at 275, a stroke off the pace.

Another South African star, 20-year-old Bobby Cole, and Chi Chi Rodriguez were a shot back to win $5,440 each.

Dean Beman, leader with nine holes to play, faltered on the back nine and tied at 277 with Ken Stoll, each winning $4,320.

Australian Bruce Crampton was alone at 278 to win $4,000.

Dave Marr and George Leader, who shared the 54-hole lead with Beman, each closed with 75 to finish in a five-way tie at 279, worth $3,136.

Bruins, Canadiens, Blues Advance To Hockey Finals

By The Associated Press

It will be Montreal against Boston and St. Louis against somebody in the National Hockey League's East and West Division Stanley Cup final playoffs.

The Canadiens, Bruins and Blues all completed four-game sweeps of first round Cup opponents Sunday while the Los Angeles Kings knocked off Oakland to knot the other series at two games each.

Montreal held off a furious

New York rally and beat the Rangers 4-3. Boston nipped Toronto 3-2 to finish off the Maple Leafs and moments afterwards, Toronto President Stafford Smythe finished off Manager-Coach Punch Imlach, by firing him. St. Louis downed Philadelphia 4-1 and Los Angeles took Oakland 4-2.

Montreal opened a 4-0 lead against the Rangers with Dick Duff, Jacques Lemaire, Henri Richard and Yvan Cournoyer scoring against Gilles Villeneuve, who replaced regular goalie Ed Giacomin.

New York broke through against Rogation Vachon, who took over when Montreal's netminder, Gump Worsley, came up with a sore knee, with quick goals by Dave Balon and Rod Gilbert and added another by Don Marshall in the third period, but it was not enough.

It marked Montreal's third playoff sweep in the last four series. The Canadiens won 12 of 13 playoff games to capture the Cup last year.

Smythe lowered the boom on Imlach two minutes after the Bruins eliminated Toronto. It was Derek Sanderson of the Bruins, who lowered the boom on the Maple Leafs.

Sanderson scored two goals, one while killing a Boston penalty, to lead the Bruins' attack. Phil Esposito's sixth playoff goal was Boston's other score. Ron Ellis and Dave Keon scored for the Leafs.

St. Louis got the jump on Philadelphia with three goals in the first five minutes and beat the Flyers.

Frank St. Marseille opened the scoring with the game just 52 seconds old and then Terry Crisp and Jim Roberts connected 14 seconds apart for the quick 3-0 Blues' lead.

Tim Eccelstone made it 4-0 for St. Louis before Garry Peters scored for Philadelphia, ruining goalie Jacques Plante's chances for a record-tying third straight playoff shutout.

Los Angeles evened up its series with Oakland as three defensemen pitched in with goals. Bill White, Larry Cahan and Brent Hughes all clicked for the Kings after Earl Ingarfield had given Oakland the early edge.

Howie Menard scored LA's other goal and Ted Hampson hit for the Seals. The series resumed Wednesday in Oakland.

Boxing Making Return To Area

Boxing is returning to the Escanaba area. Perhaps not on quite as large a scale as the Golden Gloves Tournament, but certainly as large in terms of enthusiasm.

Over 80 boys have registered to participate in a boxing tournament to be conducted at the Bark River-Harris Elementary School on April 12 and 16 at 7 p. m.

The boys range in age from 10 to 15 and in weight from 60 to 150 pounds; so if you know children at this age, you know the action will be fast and furious. Every precaution will be taken to insure that no child will be hurt as a result of the tournament, as 12 ounce gloves and headgear will be required.

Golden Gloves fans will surely remember the name of LeRoy Sovey and the battles he used to engage in with Pete Bosanic. Well, the old days can't be relived, but this tournament will certainly bring back memories for Sovey as he will once again enter the ring as a referee. Sovey will be aided by judges Jerry Richer and Dr. Dennis McGinn.

The proceeds from the tournament will be used to benefit the Schaffer Community Center project and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Haywood Captures Rebounding Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — The University of Detroit's Olympics basketball star, Spencer Haywood, is following in Dave Debusschere's footsteps.

The former Detroit pistons star who was traded last season to New York won the rebounding title in college basketball in 1960 when he was a sophomore. Haywood is the first sophomore to repeat this feat.

Last year, the National Collegiate Sports Services, showed Haywood leading in rebounding with an average of 21.5. He also was fourth in scoring with an average of 3.8. Pete Maravich of Louisiana averaged 44.2 with 1,148 points in 26 games to shatter the 43.8 record he set as a sophomore in 1968.

Table Tennis Event Slated

The 22nd annual Table Tennis tournament sponsored by the recreation department will open at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center next week with the boys' intermediate division swinging into action on Monday, April 14, at 6:30 p.m. This group includes boys 16 and 17 years of age.

Competition in the junior division for boys 13, 14 and 15 will get underway on Tuesday evening, April 15, at 6:30. Boys and men 18 and older will play in the senior division which begins tournament action on Wednesday, April 16, at 7 p.m.

The girls' open division includes all girls 13 years of age and older and they are scheduled to begin competition on Thursday, April 17, at 6:30 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to winners in all classes and players finishing second, third and fourth will receive medals. The deadline for entering is Thursday, April 10. Registration blanks are available at the Civic Center and at the home of Paul Vardigan, 1415 S. 16th Ave.

Civic Center patrons are asked to note that ping pong tables will be reserved for tournament action from April 14 to 17.

Tigers Defeated In Spring Finale

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "There's a long time to go and I think things will come around all right," said Detroit Tiger manager Mayo Smith as his squad ended its spring exhibition baseball competition in defeat.

Detroit lost its 17th Grapefruit League game against only 9 wins as Cincinnati stormed from behind Sunday to take a 5-3 victory.

Hurter John Hiller was hit for four runs in a disastrous eighth inning which proved the difference.

The spark that led the Tigers to the World Series title last year was missing, but Mayo Smith had something to be optimistic about.

His other pitchers, Mickey Lolich, Pat Dobson, Earl Wilson and Joe Sparda had held Cincinnati to only three hits and one run in the first seven innings.

Lolich, who pitched one inning, may get the Tigers' starting assignment Tuesday against Cleveland, if pitching ace Denny McLain doesn't respond sufficiently to treatment for a sore shoulder.

Hiller was charged with the loss Sunday, with Wayne Granger, the third Redleg pitcher, getting credit for the win.

A Jet Stadium crowd of 7,203 watched the Reds win their 123th game against 14 losses on the spring training schedule. The Reds are at home today for the traditional National League opener, facing the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Tigers, scored two of their three runs on home runs. The Tigers led 3-1 going into the eighth after home runs in the third by Don Wert and in the fifth by Jim Northrup and a run-producing single by Norm Cash after back-to-back bases on balls in the eighth.

Bobby Tolan led off the Reds, eighth inning with a single over Shortstop. Pinch batter Jim Beauchamp duplicated the hit and Tony Perez doubled to right center to score Tolan. Lee May cracked a double off the rightfield scoreboard, driving across Beauchamp. John Bench's single to left plated Perez and May for the final runs.

George Culver, originally scheduled to be the starter in the exhibition finale but was replaced by Jack Fisher because of teeth extractions, hurled the final inning.

Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol was happy with the sound of lively Redleg bats. "It was good to see those solid raps after some weak batting in the last couple weeks," Bristol cracked.

"I hope it continues, but I think we'll be ready when the bell rings for the regular season," he added.

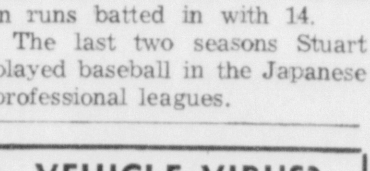

Stuart Signs Angel Contract

ANAHEIM (AP) — Durable Dick Stuart, who has bounced around baseball from the New York Mets to Tokyo, will sign a contract with California of the American League, Angel officials said today.

The 36-year-old journeyman has played the outfield and first base in nine years in the major leagues. As a free agent and nonroster handyman, he played with the Angels in spring training and led the club in home runs with four and was second in runs batted in with 14.

The last two seasons Stuart played baseball in the Japanese professional leagues.

Major League Campaign Opening With New Look

By The Associated Press
Major league baseball, troubled by a heated players pension dispute much of the winter, was poised today to launch a new season with four new clubs, five rookie managers, a new commissioner and opening games at Washington, Cincinnati and Atlanta.

The Washington Senators, who lured Ted Williams out of baseball retirement to take over as manager, faced the New York Yankees in the nation's capitol.

Tavern Dartball Banquet Slated Saturday Night

The Escanaba Tavern Dartball Association will hold its annual banquet at the Ford River Lions Club Saturday, April 12.

The event will begin at 6:30 p. m. with a cocktail hour, after which the banquet will be served. At the conclusion of the dinner meeting, officers for the coming season will be elected. Awards will also be presented to the winning teams in league and tourney play and two trophies will be given to the batting champions for the first and second half.

A dance featuring Walley and His Music Makers will be held from 9:30 to 1:30 and tickets for the event are now available at sponsoring taverns. Chairman Monte Hurthibise has announced that all tickets will be picked up this Wednesday so that reservations may be made.

Arrangements for the evening's entertainment have been made by co-chairmen John Ettenhoffer and Bill Hay. The Committee also requests that all persons attending the banquet bring their own glassware.

Cincinnati was host to the Los Angeles Dodgers in the other daylight opener.

The Atlanta Braves clash tonight with the San Francisco Giants, whose new Manager Clyde King has installed Willie Mays in the leadoff spot for the first time in the center fielder's illustrious career.

All other teams in both leagues rip the lid off their season Tuesday. Minnesota is at Kansas City, Cleveland at Detroit and Boston at Baltimore in day games and Seattle at California and Chicago at Oakland at night in the American League.

Tuesday's National League action finds Montreal at New York, Philadelphia at Chicago in daylight affairs and Pittsburgh at St. Louis, Houston at San Diego and the Giants at Atlanta again at night.

Besides Williams and King, the rookie big league managers are Billy Martin at Minnesota, Joe Schultz at Seattle and Preston Gomez at San Diego.

Three other skippers, though not new on the managerial scene, will be making their debuts with new clubs, including Gene Mauch at Montreal, Hank Bauer at Oakland and Joe Gordon at Kansas City.

The new commissioner is Bowie Kuhn, successor to Gen. William D. Eckert.

There's something else new this season. Both leagues have adapted East and West divisional setups. Division winners will collide in postseason playoffs to determine the World Series opponents.

Only a month ago, the clubs and players finally got together in their winter-long dispute over the player pension program. The dispute delayed the opening of full-scale spring training workouts.

President Nixon, who already has made some changes in Washington, hoped to add another today by sparking the Senators to their first presidential triumph in seven years. His only previous appearance was as vice president and substitute for the late President Eisenhower in 1959. The Senators won that one.

After Mr. Nixon's performance, Manager Williams, whose five-year contract involved $1.2 million, planned to send Camilo Pascual, 33-12 last year and loser in the 1968 opener, against Yankee ace Mel Stottlemyre, 21-12.

Cincinnati, oldest team in professional baseball, called on young Gary Nolan, 9-4, to pitch against Dodger veteran Don Drysdale, 14-12.

San Francisco's ace, Juan Marichal, 26-9, will go against Pat Jarvis 16-12, at Atlanta tonight. The Braves will be seeking their first home opener since they moved from Milwaukee at Atlanta in 1966.

matched San Francisco and Atlanta at night.

Williams, lured out of retirement to become baseball's first million-dollar manager, was realistic as he faced his first season with the last-place Senators.

"I just hope we won't get slaughtered," he said. "But I think we will be spoilers."

Both the Senators and the Yankees have been stuck in the tough Eastern division of the American League under the new expansion setup with the major leagues balloting to 24 teams this year.

The Yankees sent 21-game winner Mel Stottlemyre to the mound today against the Senators' aging curve artist, Camilo Pascual. Stottlemyre hurled a two-hit shutout victory in the Presidential Opener two years ago.

Williams, last man in the majors to hit over .400, wore his familiar No. 9 for his return eight years after retiring from the Boston Red Sox with the highest batting average of any man alive today except Lefty O'Doul.

He admitted, "I don't expect only all-time losers in White House history for their appearances. Republicans have the edge with a 12-8 record over-all, while Democratic Presidents have an 11-13 slate.

For Williams, the significant statistics are the Senators' 15-year losing slump and their long pennant drought. Washington hasn't finished in the first division since 1946, when Harry S. Truman became the first south-paw presidential pitcher and the Senators lost the opener to Boston on Williams' homer.

Rev. Voight Is Baptist Speaker

A series of special meetings is planned by the Bethel Baptist Church for the week April 13 to 18. Rev. Robert Haring has announced.

Rev. Russell Voight, a native of Sister Bay and now pastoring a church in Marquette, will be the speaker at the meetings which will be held nightly at 7:30 p.m. with the exception of the first meeting on Sunday, April 13, which will begin at 7 p.m.

Rev. Voight has wide experience to draw from, Pastor Haring said, and is an effective evangelist and conference speaker.

The general public is invited to attend.

Nordin Reports Hike In Welfare

An increase of $3,403.97 in February payments to county welfare recipients over January is reflected in a report of February expenditures released by Schoolcraft County Department of Social Services Director David M. Nordin.

Total January benefits were $23,949.32 while February totals reached $27,353.29.

The increase is attributable, Nordin said, to the increase of seasonal unemployment plus the fact that some families find it necessary to apply for temporary assistance while awaiting compensation from other sources.

Giants Enjoy Large Lead

The Giants lead the Knights of Columbus Cribbage League play with an 8,930 score followed by the Knights in second place with a 8,650 total.

The high single game to date is held by the Plumbers and Giants with a 139. A high five-game series is held by the Lions with 629 while the low single game record is awarded the Knights. The Cards lead the low five-game series with a 467. Best substitute to date is Wesley Turan with 11 matches to his credit.

Cutter Opens Way To Superior

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Escorting the first ship into Lake Superior through the slushy ice is "like battling your way through a pillow," Coast Guardsmen say.

But this is nothing new to the Coast Guard. For 114 years, ever since the locks at Sault Ste. Marie opened, they've been leading the way.

This year the Interstate fleet's Herbert C. Jackson was the first ship to enter Lake Superior.

The Charles M. Schwab was on the edge of the ice pack Saturday waiting for its turn to be led by the Coast Guard ice cutter Mackinaw through Whitefish Bay. Three other ships also were waiting passage.

Highway Sniper 'Victim Of Racial Discrimination'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Relatives say Donald Martin Lambright, who staged a highway shooting spree in which four died and 17 were wounded, felt he was a victim of racial discrimination.

An uncle said Lambright, 31-year-old son of the Negro movie actor Stepin Fetchit, had been diagnosed by a psychiatrist a year ago as suffering from violent or suicidal tendencies, but had refused treatment.

"The whole black-white confrontation affected him very much," said the uncle, Howard Johnson, a sociologist in the New York City antipoverty program.

Kills 3, Self
In Cleveland, Lambright's mother, Mrs. Winifred Lee, declared her son was "a victim of the racism that is abroad in this land."

During his hour-long rampage on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Saturday Lambright killed Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Keenan of Philadelphia, his wife and himself.

Two of the wounded were in a Harrisburg hospital, which listed Vincent Saitta, 35, of Framingham, N.Y., as critical and Ernest Stevens, 47, of Elkhart, Ind., as serious. Both were shot in the face.

Lambright was driving west on the turnpike about 10 a.m. Saturday when he began shooting.

His 31-year-old wife, Annette, was seated beside him. Also in the car were an M-1, 30-caliber semiautomatic rifle, a 30-caliber Marlin carbine, and several boxes of live ammunition which Mrs. Lambright had bought nine days earlier in St. Louis.

Random Shots
Lambright drove leisurely along the heavily traveled superhighway with a rifle cradled in his arms, taking random shots at passing cars.

One of the shots struck and killed Keenan, who was taking his family to visit a son at Pennsylvania State University. When Keenan collapsed, his wife, Ruby, reached for the steering wheel and was killed by a second bullet. Their 13-year-old son, Paul, was cut by shattered glass.

Lambright pulled over to the roadside occasionally to fire at oncoming cars. About one mile east of Harrisburg, he made his final stop. He shot his wife to death, then took his own life.

History Class To Begin Tours

Visiting time will soon begin for Joseph Giovanni's Contemporary History Class at the Manistique High School.

The class annually tours local businesses and institutions to acquaint themselves with their operations.

This year's agenda includes a visit to the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune on April 25; the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. May 1; the Manistique Waste Water Treatment Plant, May 6; Newberry State Hospital, May 16; and Inland Lime and Stone Co., May 20.

The class visited the Schoolcraft County Court House and the Manistique Post Office earlier this year.

Briefly Told

Eldred Demars Jr., 21, of Cooks was ticketed by state police for violation of the basic speed law — too fast for conditions — after he lost control of his auto on a curve and hit a tree. Troopers said the mishap occurred on County Road 441 in Hiawatha Township Friday at 7 p.m. No personal injuries were reported. The Demars vehicle was towed from the scene of the accident.

Manistique Public Safety officers are investigating the malicious destruction of three windows on General Telephone Co. property, Maple St. The windows were reportedly damaged with B-B gun pellets sometime Thursday night.

Marcel LaBonte, Rochester, N.Y., was ticketed for speeding and Richard Gould, Rte. 1, Manistique, no proof of insurance by troopers on Friday.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital on Friday, April 4, were Laura Welner and Angela Smith.

Discharged were Annis Carney, Sandy Sobieski, Barbara Harrison and Brian Rupnow.

Fourth Graders Write To Paris About Ending War

DETROIT (AP) — A class of Detroit fourth graders didn't let spelling obstacles such as Le Duc Tho or Nguyen Cao Ky get in the way of penning requests to Paris negotiators to end the war.

Handwritten on wide - ruled paper the letters go right to the point: "Why can't you men stop the war?" and "Wouldn't you rather have peace?"

Cathy Scrimanti, 10, asked Tran Buu Kiem, a Hanoi negotiator, "Would you like to be my friend? Maybe if two people make friends then hundreds of thousands and millions of people might be friends."

Their teacher, Marjorie Petrone, sent the letters to Washington with a request that they be forwarded to the parties in Paris.

A State Department aide, calling the letters "a compelling expression of the children's hopes that the fighting can soon end," dispatched the letters to the U.S. and South Vietnamese negotiating teams. But he suggested Mrs. Petrone send those addressed to the Communists herself.

"I have," she said. "Now we're all waiting for a reply."

Dentist Works Inside A Bag

QUINCY, Wash. (AP) — For a while there, M. F. Slusher's problem seemed insoluble.

The problem was this: Slusher is violently allergic to dentine dust, the fine powder of dentine, or tooth enamel, which flies out when a tooth is drilled. Slusher is a dentist.

Dr. Slusher, who had been practicing for 14 years, developed the allergy all of a sudden a couple of years ago. Every time he inhaled dental dust he came down with a disabling asthma attack. He says such an allergy is a rarity.

Doctors could do nothing for him, and Slusher was forced to leave the practice he shared with three associates.

He also owned an apple orchard, so he puttered around with his trees and thought about his problem.

Recently he had an inspiration.

Why not work with his head in a bag to keep the tooth dust at bay?

Slusher returned to his office outfitted with a plastic helmet, similar to a type used by chemical workers.

Looking much like an oversized bread wrapper with the top end tied off, the helmet has its own air supply line.

When he's plugged in, Slusher has about six feet of moving space.

When he's through for the day, the dentist rushes into a separate room to change his clothes and get out of his office.

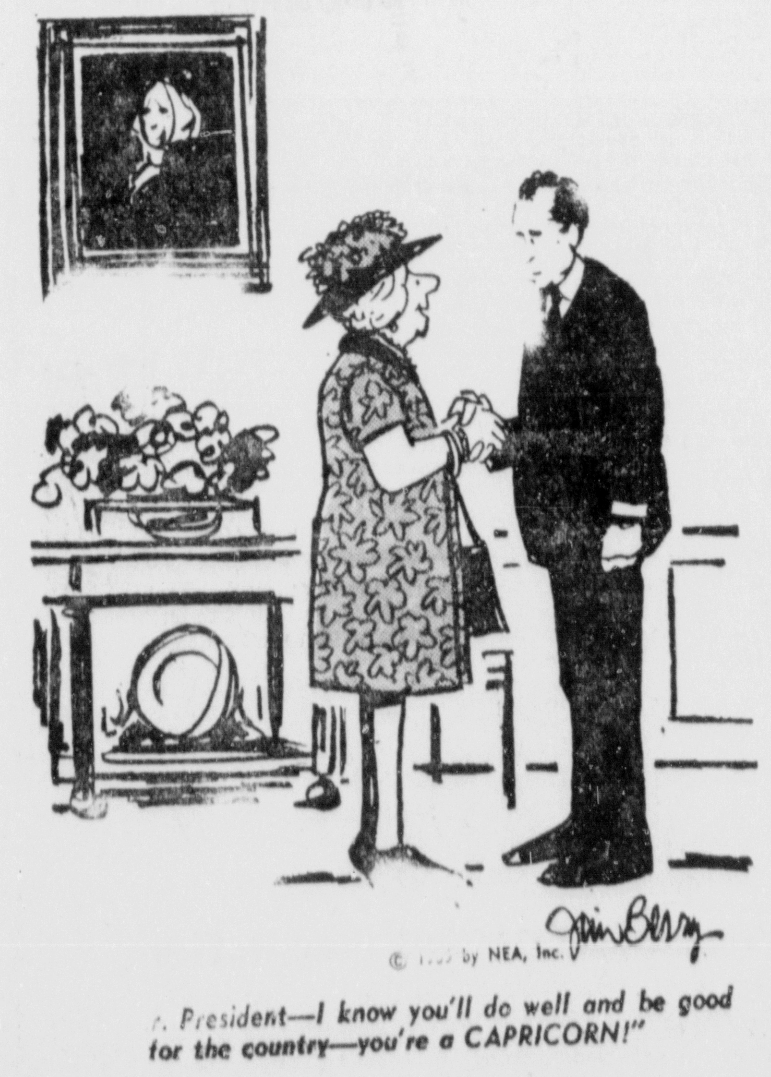

"I'm buttoning up going out the door," he says. "If I don't accumulate more than about 15 minutes of exposure in the building without my helmet I'm all right."

"Otherwise, I'm terribly sick."

The dentist, who has found no medical explanation for his allergy, said he feels fine inside the plastic bag.

BERRY'S WORLD

Crying Awakens Family To Fire

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A family of five escaped death because of a six - month - old baby's crying, police said. Willie Hudson, 37, heard the baby, Bonnie, crying Saturday night and discovered that fire had broken out near the child's crib. They managed to get all five of their children out of the house. The couple and a daughter, Christy, 15, were treated for cuts and smoke inhalation.

Adopting DST

MONROE (AP) — The Monroe County communities of Bedford Township and Luna Pier have decided to adopt Daylight Saving Time as a convenience to residents working in nearby Toledo, Ohio, which sets its clocks forward April 27. The rest of the county will remain on Eastern Standard Time.

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT APPLICATION MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT SAT., APRIL 26, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

NO age limit — no medical examination required
— no salesman will call.

We pay your premiums when you are not able.

As a special consideration to you, if you – the person to whom the basic policy is issued – are hospitalized just 8 weeks or more, all premiums due you and all Covered Members that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by Presidential. And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 180 days, Presidential will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS WHILE YOU ARE IN THE HOSPITAL – TO A MAXIMUM OF 2 YEARS – for the total confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force – you collect a maximum of $10,400.00 for the confinement!

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled in this Presidential plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, allowed by the Social Security Administration.

Once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to have the protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today, before anything unexpected happens.
